ALLAN-A-DALE.

Although Allan-a-Dale's racing career is confined to the winning of two purses at Washington Park it is doubtful if any western two-year-old colt stands higher in public estimation than does this fleet half-brother to Batten and Maid Marian. In point of size, power, symmetry and a great flight of speed of the highest order he seems to be about all that an owner could well desire, and it seems more than probable that an illustrious career lies before him. It is disappointing that the rain prevented him from meeting Abe Frank and Pentecost in the Kenwood Stakes, but in view of his valuable engagements in the east his owner cannot be criticised justly for avoiding a severe race over such a trying track.

Allan-a-Dale's first start was for a purse at Washington Park June 25. With 111 pounds up he met Herodiade, 118; Harry Beck, 115; C. Rosenfeld, 111, and Harry Wilson, 111. The two first-named had good winning performances to their credit, but so widely disseminated had been reports that Allan-a-Dale was a racing gem of the first water that he was an odds-on favorite throughout the betting. The distance was five furlongs. C. Rosenfeld had a slight advantage when the barrier flew up, but Allan-a-Dale dashed into the lead instantly, closely pressed by Herodiade. The latter clung to his flying leader gallantly until the far turn was reached, where Allan-a-Dale began to draw clear, and turned into the stretch two open lengths in front. This lead he increased to six lengths in the run down the stretch and won easily up in the record-breaking time—for the track—of 1:00½. Outside watches made the time faster, but the official time was sufficient to demonstrate that he was a colt of amazing speed and that the long-standing rumors of his excellence were in no wise misplaced.

His second essay was also for a purse at five and one-half furlongs June 28. He again carried 111 pounds, while his opponents were Helen Print, 108; Harry Wilson, 106; Bragg, 111, and Pentecost, 118. Breaking second in a good start he speedily assumed a two lengths lead, with Pentecost running second. This lead he had increased to six lengths at the head of the stretch, where Pentecost crossed his legs and fell. From there on Allan-a-Dale came home under restraint and won by four lengths, which he could have made many more. The time was 1:07½ and at no time was the good colt extended and doing his best.

It can be truthfully said that Allan-a-Dale did not meet the best of his age at Washington Park, but he won his two races with such consummate ease and with such evident speed in reserve, that he made a great impression on veteran turfmen as well as on less experienced observers. He has only one engagement at Washington Park, the Hyde Park Stakes, so Mr. McDowell has decided to take him on to Brighton.

At this track his first engagement is in the Brighton Junior Stakes, of the guaranteed value of $10,000, which will be run Saturday, July 13. The distance is six furlongs and under the conditions Allan-a-Dale will be in receipt of fifteen pounds non-winning allowance, which will let him in with but 107 pounds to carry, while the eastern crack Nasturtium will have to take up 125. If he starts in the same form he displayed here the event appears to be at his mercy. His other engagement at Brighton Beach is in the $15,000 Foxhall Stakes at six furlongs, which will be decided on the same day that the Washington Park patrons will acclaim the winner of the Wheeler Handicap, Saturday July 20. If he does not win the Brighton Junior he will be entitled to a seven pound allowance. He is a good colt and the property of a turfman of the right sort and there are many here in Chicago who will wish him no worse luck than that he may land both of the rich Beach stakes.

AN EASTERN VIEW.

Editor H. A. Buck of the Spirit of the Times made a trip to Chicago to witness the fourteenth American Derby and here is what he wrote back to his paper about it:

"A great spectacle, comparable only to the English Derby Day, and far surpassing anything seen in the east," was the unanimous comment of the Eastern turfmen who were fortunate enough to be present at Washington Park, Chicago, on American Derby Day. Certainly the crowd was larger than is seen in any Eastern course, numbering fully forty thousand, and of the best quality. Society in Chicago turned out en masse, while countless representatives from St. Louis, Cincinnati, Louisville, Cleveland,

2:33½, a record breaking performance for the event, while the field, including as it did some of the best three-year-olds of the east and the undoubted champions of the west, has never been surpassed in the history of the race. Starter Dwyer, who is undoubtedly close to the top in his profession, sent the field of ten away to as perfect a start as I have ever witnessed, after a delay of less than ten minutes and only one false break.

"Before the first quarter of a mile had been run His Eminence, who had gotten off second, was seen suddenly to drop back to a bad last, and whether he was interfered with or Odom lost his nerve in the rather rough-riding field the chances of the Mackay horse were settled then and there. At that, the performance of Mr. Mackay's recent purchase was thoroughly creditable, as he made up a lot of ground on the back and homestretch and finally finished a good fifth. When half the journey had been finished, the race, barring accidents, was seen

ALLAN-A-DALE, CH. C. 2, BY HALMA—SUDIE MC NAIRY.

Detroit and other Western cities put in an appearance. New York City sent several prominent in society and the turf circles of the city, including Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, Frederick Gebhard, R. T. Wilson, Jr., Craig W. Wadsworth, F. Appleton Smith, Edward Crowninshield, Senator P. H. McCarren and Frank Farrell. The clubhouse and the spacious lawns in front of it, were crowded with well-gowned women and well-groomed men, the grandstand and the lawn between it and the track, as well as the uncovered stand were packed to suffocation, while the infield contained numberless coaches, victorias and traps of various kinds, Derby Day being regarded in Chicago almost as much of a holiday as in London. If Chicagoans wished to impress an Easterner with their Derby Day, a brighter or more favorable specimen could not have been selected than that of 1901.

"The weather conditions were simply perfection, the track lightning fast, as the times in the various races showed, the Derby being to be between The Parader, the leader, Robert Waddell and Terminus, and at the mile and a sixteenth The Parader, with two lengths lead, and apparently running well within himself, seemed to have the Derby won. However, when the homestretch was reached, Robert Waddell, the rank outsider, caught and passed him, and in the last hundred yards Terminus as well as The Parader tiring badly, though showing no tendency to run out at the turn under Piggott's strong guidance.

"Robert Waddell, whose victory was a popular one, won handsily by a length and a half, Terminus a length in front of The Parader, who was four lengths in front of Bonibert and six ahead of His Eminence. They finished as named. Bullman, on the winner, rode an exceedingly well judged race and scored his second American Derby win. Though Spencer rode Beau Gallant and Turner Bonibert, for all that was in them, neither were contenders at

MALAY WINS A GOOD RACE.

Pasty mud in generous quantities prevailed at Washington Park yesterday, and horses that favor deep, holding going were very much in evidence. The attendance as usual was large.

The feature event of the day was the fourth race, a handicap for three-year-olds and upward, $1,400 added, at one and one-sixteenth miles. Much interest was taken out of the event by the declaring of Pink Coat who was regarded by many as having the best chance to win. Sidney Lucas, the American Derby winner of 1900, made his first appearance in the west this year in this race but failed to display any of his 1900 quality, finishing a dismal and beaten off last. The winner turned up in Dr. Rowell's good gelding Malay, who reveled in the going. He laid along second to Sidney Lucas for half a mile and then darted to the lead, wheeling into the stretch looking all over an easy winner but in the last sixteenth had to be shaken up to offset Rolling Boer's dashing bid in the last fifty yards. The latter has shown much improvement in his last two races and will be a hard horse to beat when placed right. Wild Pirate showed his liking for heavy going by running an excellent race, finishing well up. Walkenshaw in going made to his order was run into exhaustion after showing well for seven furlongs. He looked stiff and sore going to the post. George Arnold although not particularly fond of the footing showed prominently for seven furlongs.

Montanic, who ran some clever races in California last winter, was pitted against Vulcan in the second race, a dash of six furlongs, but the latter after being outrun to the head of the stretch, wore down the Ellison gelding in the last quarter and beat him rather handily at the end. Sister Mamie, the other starter, was never a contender.

Trinity Bell fell an easy victim to Eddie Jones in the opening event, the California horse winning as he pleased.

Silurian, after showing several poor races, was placed right at last, and favored by the going took the closing race of the day in rather a handy fashion from South Breeze, with Astor an indifferent third. South Breeze threw Jockey Woods while scoring and ran away about a quarter of a mile. This might have been the cause of her defeat.

GO EARLY TO-DAY.

People who intend to witness the decision of the Sheridan Stakes and of the other races that go to make up the fine card offered at Washington Park this afternoon are reminded that racing to-day begins at 1:30 sharp. Those who do not keep this in view are likely to miss several of the races.

The Sheridan will be contested by the redoubtable Robert Waddell, with the extreme penalty up; His Eminence, who has been working well of late and is expected to do better than he did in the Derby; Terminus, Jiminez, Brutal and Six Shooter. This is a compact field that should furnish a contest fully up to the traditions of the Sheridan. The other races have filled exceedingly well and all around, the card is one that would be hard to improve.

Last night secretary Howard set a small army of men, horses and harrows to work on the track, and as it is fast drying out and will be worked all forenoon, he is confident that it will be a good safe course, over which fairly good horses will be able to do a mile in from 1:41 to 1:42. So the thousands who will go out today may expect to see dust flying instead of the mud that marred the racing yesterday.

GREAT WESTERN WEIGHTS.

The Great Western Handicap, the longest distance race of the Washington Park meeting for three-year-olds and upward, is to be decided next Saturday and, in accordance with its conditions, Secretary Howard announced the weights yesterday. They scale from 124 pounds on Waring and Ildrim down to 87 on several lightweights, and have been so arranged that, with fair weather and a good track, a large acceptance and a great race seems to be assured. AN EASTERN VIEW.

any time, Beau Gallant in particular never showing a particle of speed from start to finish. "As to the lesson of the Derby, 'thirteen out of fourteen American Derbies won by Western horses, and yet the so-called wise men of the east do not as yet recognize the error of their ways,' said one of the best trainers of the west immediately after the running of the Derby. Continuing, he added, 'No Eastern horse, barring, perhaps, one of the Salvator, Morello or Commando class, can win this one and a half mile event, unless at his best after at least a couple of weeks' recuperation from the thousand-mile journey here and an opportunity to acclimatize himself.'

"The Eastern contingent present this year, owners, trainers and jockeys alike, have arrived at the same conclusion, and a most rational and sensible one it seems, especially after one has personally taken the journey, hot and trying even under the best of conditions at this season of the year. It can easily be imagined how severe a strain the trip must be upon the physical condition and nervous system of a high-strung thoroughbred, as a rule 'just on edge' when the journey is taken. Bonnbirt and Beau Gallant had only two or three days in which to recuperate from the effects of their journey, and both were given severe trials on Thursday. The Parader had his trial—a severe test, as the time, 2:33½, over the Sheepshead Bay course shows—on Wednesday, and had but one night in which to recuperate after his arrival in Chicago. To my mind the mere statement of these facts should be sufficient to convince any fair-minded person as to the great handicap under which Eastern horses labor in arriving so short a time before a gruelling contest, such as the American Derby is apt to be.

"Unquestionably there have been in the past years when the Eastern representatives greatly outclassed the Western, notably in the cases of St. Leonards and Domino, as after events proved conclusively, but then as now too short a period was given for recuperation. It may yet be proved that we in the east have overrated The Parader and Bonnbirt, but that Robert Waddell and Terminus are their superiors, even at the different weights, previous performances both in the East and West seem to disprove.

"Taking the race as a whole it must be considered the best American Derby ever run, as the class of several of the contestants was above the average, the time record breaking, and the race truly run from start to finish. While Robert Waddell won handily at the end, the result was always in doubt as between him and The Parader until the last quarter, and the interest was sustained throughout."

MR. WHITNEY'S SALE.

A weeding-out sale of yearlings and two-year-olds from the stable of W. C. Whitney was held in the Fasig-Tipton Company's paddocks before the races began Monday at Sheephead Bay. This was the first time Mr. Whitney ever offered yearlings of his own breeding at auction. The fact that not one of them had any engagements and were also unbroken, although they were relatives to well-known performers, had a depressing effect, as most of the youngsters were sold cheap. The two-year-old Trump brought the top price, T. Hitchcock Jr. securing him for $2,100. The three-year-old Collegian was sold to W. Jennings for $1,700. James Shields gave $1,525 each for two yearlings, one being by Meddler-Rupert, a half sister to Approval, and the other a half brother to The Kentuckian and The Puritan. Summary:

Went to post at 2:30. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won in a canter; second the same. Eddie Jones rejoiced in the mud and easily took leave of Trinity Bell after the first half had been run. Trinity Bell floundered in the going and was a thoroughly beaten filly before the head of the stretch had been reached. Monograph was never a factor.

Went to post at 2:55. At post 4 minutes. Start fair. Won rather handily; second easily. Vulcain, who is a slow beginner, was easily outrun by Montanic to the head of the stretch. There Vulcain closed and under pressure gradually drew away. Montanic tired badly in the last eighth, swerving toward the inside rail. Sister Mamie might as well have remained in her stall.

Winner—B. f, by Preston—Mura.
Went to post at 3:30. At post 8 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Muresca showed the most speed for the entire route and was never in trouble any part of it. Doreen, slow to get going, moved up fast in the last quarter on the inside rail. She was easily the best of the others. Jordan was all tangled at the start and never got clear until stretch spread from where he began to close fast. He threw jockey Woods in one of the breakaways, but was stopped before he had run far. J. V. Kirby appeared not to like the going and was always outrun. Mabel Winn as usual stopped badly in the last eighth. Palmette ran well for a half mile and then stopped.

Winner—Br. g, by Pirate of Penance—Miss Thomas.
Went to post at 4:05. At post 6 minutes. Start good. Won driving; next two the same. Malay, always well up, took an easy command after passing beyond the half and looked to be winning handily in the last eighth, but Rolling Boer and Wild Pirate closed so fast that Knight was compelled to drive the Rowell gelding to the utmost to win. Rolling Boer finished resolutely and was gradually cutting the winner down at the end. Wild Pirate saved ground by skimming the rail down the last quarter, but hung slightly in the closing strides. Walkenshaw showed well for seven furlongs and then went all to pieces. He acted sore going to the post. George Arnold does not like the mud. After running well up for seven-eighths he dropped gradually out of it. Sidney Lucas had speed for a half mile and then fell clear out of it.
Scratched—(26318) Pink Coat, 118; 26377 Gonfalon, 109.

Winner—B. h, by Donald A.—Dudu.
Went to post at 4:35. At post 10 minutes. Start fair. Won rather handily; second easily. Bullman gave Sam Lazarus Esq. a perfect ride. He got off rather poorly and took his time getting to the front. Entering the stretch he assumed an easy lead and had just enough left to stall off Prince Blazes' rush at the end. The latter was messed all about down the backstretch and received a poor ride. He finished with force through the last quarter. Alaska came strong in the last eighth, after making up much ground. Ben Battle had plenty of speed for six furlongs and then tired. Alas had early speed. So had Shut Up, who, as usual, quit when the pinch came.
Scratched—26346 Hart D., 105; 26918 Hermencia, 104; 26021 Light Ball, 89.

Winner—Br. g, by Belvidere—Virgie D.
Went to post at 5:10. At post 30 minutes. Start fair. Won easily; second the same. Silurian, badly outrun in the first three-quarters, picked up his field rapidly just before straightening for the wire, and stalling off South Breeze's bid in the last eighth, won in an impressive manner. The latter threw jockey Woods while scoring and ran away for about a quarter of a mile before she was caught. This might have told on her in the race. Off last she closed much ground but hung when challenged by the winner. Astor appeared to dislike the going and was always outrun. Tom Embry ran an excellent race for six furlongs and then began to lurch and tire. Josephine B. under a poor ride, ran a dull race. Rollick stopped all over in the last sixteenth after showing in the lead for six furlongs. Impromptu, always up well, had enough of it after three-quarters had been run.
Scratched—26320 Winter, 104; 26320 Nyz, 92; 26380 Vincennes, 105; 26459 Walkenshaw, 110.

Went to post at 2:30. At post 9 minutes. Start good. Won in a gallop. Revoke liked the soft going, was well ridden, cleverly ridden and won as she chose. Irving Mayor ran a fair race; he was not well ridden. Antolee and Precision were the best horses in the race, but were badly ridden. Weber timidly pulled Antolee to a standstill after the start. Precision was poorly handled throughout. Purse Lady closed strong. Mace Russell had speed, but stopped.

Went to post at 3:01. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second driving. Marque was very much the superior of the lot and won with a lot left. Anna Elliott performed much ahead of her mark. She was well ridden. Irosuta ran a good race. Bandrol was off last and doesn't care for weight. Mazzara did well for a green filly. Bonniecoosa is a slow beginner.
Marque, show, out. Anna Elliott, show, 8 to 5. Irosuta, show, 6 to 1. Bandrol, show, 1 to 2. Bonniecoosa, show, 3 to 5.

Went to post at 3:32. At post 6 minutes. Start good for all but Pirate's Daughter. Won easily. A blinding rainstorm made it impossible to see the horses. Hungarian got away in a hurry and put the mud and rain behind him and in the eyes of the other boys. He finished strongly. Hansborough finished stoutly, too. Sadie Levy was all out. Alvin W. was closing at the end. Pirate's Daughter, poorly off, made up a lot of ground.
Hungarian, show, out. Hansborough, show, 2 to 5. Sadie Levy, show, 3 to 5.

Zack Ford was doing well to the stretch when he stepped into a hole and stopped. Robert Jr. was off last and was ill ridden. He was the best of the lot with an even break. Velasquez had all the best of the break, but stopped as if short. Synco-pated Sandy should have been closer up but was very badly handled. Fred Hessig again showed a hatred of mud.
